

Phyllis Balagna
Steppin' Out – The Studio
President

Laura Maxwell
Lee's Summit
R-7 School District
Secretary

Becky Bennett
Great Southern Bank
Treasurer

Community of Character Business
Sector Members
www.lscharacter.org

*"It takes character to truly value diversity.
It takes diversity to build true character."*
-- Dr. Emmanuel Ngomsi

August 2011

Resolving Workplace Conflict: When dealing with conflict resolution in the workplace do you feel like your skating on thin ice? Or maybe just going around in circles? Bring balance to your office relationships and bring back workplace success!

Join us for Lee's Summit CARES Community of Character Business Sector's latest business workshop. Resolving Workplace Conflict will focus on confronting and resolving workplace issues effectively, held Tuesday, October 11 at Landmark 2 Skate Center.

Our presenter for the workshop is Lori Woodley the founder of Peace Matters an alternative ministry devoted to helping others connect to themselves and others because she has witnessed and experienced the power, transformation and deep healing that results from authentic connection. www.peacematters.com. Lori enjoys facilitating Nonviolent Communication (NVC) classes, workshops and retreats, offering her skills as a mediator, and helping others transform conflict into a positive, usable resource. Lori facilitates a year-long program in Lees Summit that is in its second year (US Heartland NVC Mediation Immersion Program - www.nvcmediation.com).

As a Unity Minister, Lori earned a Masters of Divinity degree from Unity Institute. Before seminary, she practiced as a C.P.A. for over twenty years and still holds an active license in Florida. In addition, Lori has received peacemaking training from the Lombard Mennonite Peace Center, is a certified Ministry Peacemaking & Transitional Consultant and has attended state approved mediation trainings in order to become an approved divorce mediator.

As an executive board member for the Community Mediation Center in Independence, Lori volunteers her time, talent and treasure to the Center so that the valuable services they offer can be made available to everyone. www.communitymediationkc.org

Living in Kansas City, Missouri Lori is a mother, partner and friend. She greatly enjoys her home life and invests her personal time with her family, study, a formal mediation and prayer practice, yoga, nature, and friends.

Join us in Resolving Workplace Conflict and learn to enhance your workplace relationships by resolving conflict and move forward in the professional way you would like. If this is a struggle, you won't want to miss this FREE workshop so mark your calendar for Tuesday, Oct 11th 8-9:30am (a light breakfast begins at 7:30) at Landmark2 Skate Center, 701 SE Oldham Ct, Lee's Summit. Reservations will be accepted until Oct 4th. Register by email sdcoffman@rediscovermh.org, or by calling 347-3248.